Salt Meet-ups

We believe that a person can positively impact their world through an active involvement in their passions. By using our Meet-ups as the vehicle, we aim to encourage confidence and instill the realization that it is possible to be successful in life by doing what you love.

Throughout the year Salt organizes Meet-ups. Small-scale and ranging from craft workshops, adventure classes, sports clinics, movie nights, speaker sessions, product testing & tastings to multi-day gatherings where we celebrate the outdoor lifestyle. Salt Meetups are about discovering that the magic is in the doing.

Salt Meetups provide you the opportunities to share your story and connect with the Salt community.

“You can’t put a website on your coffee table”

Salt magazine

Print hasn’t disappeared, but its role sure has changed. Print, once the old-fashioned content marketing staple, can now actually feel unique, a way to break through the digital advertising clutter. Standing out amongst the ever-growing volume of digital content can be challenging. Print offers a way to make a lasting impression with an audience. You can’t put a website on your coffee table. And if design is an important part of the message, print is your medium. It’s human and substantial.

1. It is easier to cut through the clutter
2. Print is tangible
3. More easily find and connect with audiences
4. It is a component of a diverse, cross-platform strategy
5. Print is beautiful
6. Print is novel

Salt publishes 4 times a year a seasonal lifestyle magazine filled with stories and eye-catching photography that talks to the heart.

“It’s not about the size of the tribe,
it’s about their passion.”

Salt Online

Everything, everyone, wants our attention. And the one constraint is that we have the same amount of time we’ve always had before all screen distractions came along. To stand out in a busy world we all have to do our best to make our message, our story super-useful, truly inspiring and deeply relevant.
